MORE DONATIONS FOR THE HAWAII

W. C. Lyon Presents Yacht
With A Book Of Navigation

If the knackers of Honolulu could only imbibe a little of the spirit displayed by the boosters for the trans-Pacific yacht Hawaii, they would be knackers no longer. Donations have come in from every side and from the most unexpected sources. Strangers and natives have given their mite, or big mite, or medium-sized mite,—just according to their limitations, but many a single mite has been begrudged. It has all come from people who have spirit, the right kind of spirit, and it is this that is going to tell when the big race across the ocean is under way.

Yesterday the Hawaiian Longshoremen's Mutual Aid Association of Ahahui Kokua aue Manakia o na Poela o Honolulu made a very generous donation, that of a handsome ship's wheel. This was a practical present, and is highly appreciated. This morning another donation was received by the Yacht Committee in the shape of a "Book on Navigation" presented by W. C. Lyon. This book is invaluable to a man on the high seas, for it gives implicit directions how to signal to other ships, and how to fly all sorts of signals.

YACHT INSURED FOR $5500

Today the yacht Hawaii was insured for the sum of $5500. It was only a short time ago that it was stated in the Bulletin that the Hawaii was insured for $4500, but that the rate and sum would increase as the work on the boat progressed. In this short space of time our little racer has an increased valuation of $1000. This speaks well for the speedy work of the builders.

GOLF AT HALEIWA

The next golf tournament will be held Feb. 16 at the Haleiwa links. This will be the first actual contest that golfers will have had in some time and a cracking good crowd will probably journey out Haleiwa-way to enjoy the day and watch the play. The tournament on Feb. 16 will be for the White Rock Cup.

DECIDING GAME NEXT SUNDAY

Chinese Athletic Club
And Kaalas Will Fight It Out

On Sunday afternoon, January 19, commencing at 2 o'clock at Aala Park, the public is promised one of the fastest games of baseball ever seen at the park.

The C. A. C's will meet the Kaalas in the undecided championship series; as there is only one chance of meeting, each team will do their utmost to carry off the laurels. The C. A. C's defeated the Twilights last Sunday in a well-earned game by a score of 3 to 3, and should they come out victorious in the game Sunday against the Kaalas they shall be declared champions of the second series, the Kaalas being the undefeated champions of the first. The county band will be in attendance to enliven the game, and the winners will know that they have been in a real game of baseball.

Edwin Fernandez will umpire the game and as his decisions have always been fair and impartial there will be no room for any argument as to the true winner.

President Yerra of the league will be on hand, and many other of the league officials, for this will probably prove the deciding game in this season's schedule. Great interest has been manifested all year in these games, and the winner of the championship will be greeted with an ovation. This league has certainly done a great deal toward keeping a standard of high-class baseball always before the public.

SPORTIVE SPLURGES

"Mornin', Old Woman's Game," said George O'Neill at the links the other day.

"Mornin', George," replied the polite Game of Golf.

Thus did George O'Neill become acquainted first with the game of golf, and in the above manner did he express his exalted opinion of the aforesaid game. Huh! a game for old women,—nothing to do except to walk around, swing a club, hit a ball, and then do the same thing over and over again. Wasn't even expensive enough to make it classy. All this thought George.

But, as yet, he had not partaken of the Fruit of Wisdom. He was to learn, and to his sorrow.

He was furnished with clubs and balls by obliging friends (of course he said that if he broke anything he would make the loss good to the owner), and then he started in to play that most deceiving game—golf. The details are agonizing. It would be hardly right to quote George—that is, to use his own words. Anyway, he it understood that George has a very excellent vocabulary and a fairly good flow of language. Even the caddies gazed at George in admiration. Blue smoke floated gently around the links. Sulphur was the prevailing odor. George reached the fourth hole.

Then he quit.

And the end of this sad tale is that George O'Neill lost nine golf-balls by the time he reached the fourth hole. Nine golf-balls means $1.50. Golf isn't expensive. There were also a couple of clubs left in good condition. George says golf is a pretty good game, but he doesn't like it any better than it likes his pocketbook.

It is probable that some cruises of the yacht club down to Pearl Harbor will be arranged in the near future. The committee whose duty it is to take the initiative in this matter is also the committee in charge of the Hawaii, so the former work has been let slide for the past month or so. However, it will be started again soon.

Rudolph Buchley refuses to go golfing any more with George O'Neill.

There were seven boats entered in the last trans-Pacific race, with three starts. This year, so far as has been learned, nine boats have already entered, and probably all of them will start. The Prisco disaster just preceded the former race, and consequently put many yacht-owners completely out of the contest.

At the meeting of the Board of Governors of the Automobile Club the other day to decide the winners in the endurance run, the members took time to express words of commendation for the Bulletin in its work of "boosting" the race.

The Coast papers are having a lot to say about Dick Reuter, and how he will sure go to some league there. Just the same, Dick is still holding down the old job with the H. R. T. & L. Co., saying nothing, but "sawing wood."

When the Hawaii is insured for $5500 she must be getting well under way. It won't be so very long before she slides into the water.

The yacht "Kamehameha" carried a jolly party of young people down to Pearl Harbor last Sunday, where the day was spent.

Joos Woods is going away pretty soon to the Coast. Bringing ball-teams down here seems to agree with him.

Tennis matches are played nearly every day at the Punahou courts.

The Y. M. C. A. basketball teams are practicing right along.

SPEED OF AUTOS

The Automobile Club is putting up caution notices at the limits of the speed restrictions, for the benefit of the automobilists. This will inform the drivers of cars the points where they may let out and go some.

BRUNS-MOIR FIGHT PICTURES SHOWN

San Francisco was introduced to the Burns-Moir fight pictures at an exhibition in the Empire Theater yesterday afternoon. The films show that Burns had it on the Britisher so far that comparisons is out of the question. Moir managed to show a few flashes of speed, but the way the American whipped over his right to the jaw and felled his man convinced all those who saw the films that there was nothing to it.

For the first couple of rounds Burns seemed to be stalling. Near the end of the third he cut loose with three sharp rights to the jaw and put Moir to the mat for the count. After that time the fight dragged along until the eighth, with Moir showing up lively and seemingly with a chance to win.

But in the tenth there was a decided change. Burns sailed in and the way he treated that Britisher was awful. He battered Moir all over the ring and finally polished on the night's work by landing a couple of rights flash on the jaw, and the boat was over.

The panorama at the ringside was a novel one. Everybody was in evening dress, even the ushers. The referee sat on an elevated platform several feet outside of the ring. During the eighth round he did not like the way the men were clenching and called them over to the ropes. Both obeyed his command, and after a few words of instruction the fight was renewed.

Stanford University, Jan. 13.—The call for all boxing men of Stanford university to turn out for varsity practice will be sounded tomorrow afternoon by F. W. Turner '08, president of the boxing club, in the absence of Coach Dan Murphy and Captain L. R. Gay of the "eight." The training of the boatmen has been delayed several weeks by the illness of Coach Murphy, who is recovering from an attack of typhoid fever in San Francisco, and it has now been decided to proceed with the preliminary work under the directorship of Turner. Murphy will be moved to Palo Alto the first of next month and will supervise the work until he is strong enough to go out in the boats.
